Elk Point Co-op addition under construction

The addition to Elk Point's Co-op store made noticeable progress this week, with the wall and roof framework raised and fastened into place on Wednesday and Thursday. Seen through the framework is the small structure west of the Town of Elk Point office, which was the first Co-op store in Elk Point. The current store opened in 1978.

Town council meets with engineer

By CLARE GAUVREAU
Review Staff

The regular meeting of Town of Elk Point Council on July 22 was brief due in large part to a special meeting held by council a few days earlier on July 18, which saw council approve a number of motions.

The Elk Point Review was not present for the special meeting, but the meeting minutes indicate council met with Bob Hanewich of Select Engineering. Council approved five different motions giving Select Engineering the go ahead on several projects. These included: finishing 60th Ave. from the service road to 45 St., installation of water, sewer and road on 45 St. from 60 Ave. north, proceed with planning of looping the water on the north end of the service road to north end of 45 St., proceed with planning of a future approach at the north end of the Industrial Park off Highway 41, and proceed with planning of the retention pond for the north residential area on the west side.

Mayor Parrish Tung told the Review the special meeting was necessary because council needed to meet with the engineer and move forward with his recommendations on some key projects. Time is of the essence, Tung said, as it is construction season, and some of this work needs to be done this year, while some of the other initiatives are still very much at the planning stage.

Assistant CAO

Council also agreed at the special meeting to direct administration to begin advertising for an assistant CAO position. This would be a new position for the Town and is necessary step in succession planning for town administration, Tung said.

Black dirt

Location Cats was awarded a $39,500 contract to move the pile of black dirt from a sold lot in the Industrial Park to the far northeast corner of the development. The dirt had been stockpiled on the lot during the development of the industrial area.

Road opening

Also during the special meeting, council addressed a letter from resident Carolyn Onusko expressing concern with council's decision to re-open 52 Ave. east of Highway 41, to through traffic. Tung told the Review, that council was in agreement that due to growth in the community re-opening the registered road was necessary.

Long-time SPERD trustees not running again

By JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

When locals go to the polls in October, there will be some long-serving names missing from the ballots for the St. Paul Education Regional Division board.

After serving on the board for two terms, current chair Maureen Miller says she will not be seeking re-election.

"Although I have had an incredible experience, the new four-year term for me is a deterrent," says Miller, via email with the Journal. "My future plans will require more flexibility before that term is up."

Miller says she has been fortunate to work alongside "six other trustees that have had a common goal of education and children first." She encourages anyone with an interest in education to become involved with the board.

Looking forward, Miller says a new board will have to face challenges.

"Changes in the future are also encouraging, and yet will pose some challenges," says Miller, adding, "Implementing the new Education Act and offering services with a budget that is a forever moving target requires creativity and a pulse on the community of priorities."

Past chair Darrell Younghans has also decided to pursue other endeavors, after spending 12 years on the SPERD board.

"I just think it's time maybe to get some new blood in there," says Younghans, adding, he is also sitting on the board for Portage College and is the president of the local PC Association, "so time has been an issue."

Younghans also points to the new four-year term as being a factor in his decision.

Long-time trustee Ron Rudkowsky, who has also been on the board for four terms, is another familiar face set to step away from the board.

"I will miss it," says Rudkowsky, adding, "It's pretty interesting, but there comes a point when it's time to retire." He believes that anyone considering running in the election has to come with some experience in fiscal responsibility.

"The school board spends a lot of taxpayer money." But, Rudkowsky is confident there are qualified people willing to step up.

Yet to make a decision are Trustee Deb Pederson and Trustee Rhonda Lafrance.

Pederson, who has served for three terms on the board, says she will take the summer to decide if she will run. She adds that anyone wanting to run as a trustee should have a "passion for education."

Lafrance says she is leaning toward serving one more term with the board.

"There are some items that I would like to see come to fruition," said Lafrance, in June. She adds that she is happy with the work that has been done by the board in recent years.

Vice Chair Heather Starosielski says she will be running for a second term.

"My passion for education began when my own children began school 10 years ago," says Starosielski, adding, she has been honoured to represent her community for the past three years.

"The past three years have had some challenges, but my time in office has also been extremely rewarding. There has been some low times, such as the accident at Racette, but we have also enjoyed some great successes that include the Racette modernization, the start of construction of the Two Hills Mennonite School, and the new gym due to be completed this fall in Elk Point."

Rhea Looy will also be seeking re-election this fall.

"I am passionate about our children's education," she says, adding, having a board that works together as a team is something she values.

This year's municipal and school board elections will take place on Oct. 21. Nomination day for the school board is Sept. 23. This election will be the first since the province made the change to four-year terms, rather than three-year terms.

With just under 12 weeks to go before the Oct. 21 municipal elections, Parrish Tung has announced that he will seek a fourth term as Elk Point's mayor.

His current term has seen the community grow, and Tung says that growth is "necessary for the community to survive," with increased assessment making it possible to cover the increased costs of municipal operations.

"We are lucky to be situated in a booming area, although we face tough competition from surrounding municipalities," Tung says. "Fortunately, we have seen tremendous growth in the past two years, and with growth comes increased demands on our infrastructure."

The town has undertaken some "big projects," he adds, some of which are ongoing, including the regional water line, which is nearing completion, "a year late due to construction problems." With its completion comes the need for another project, increasing the town's capacity for treated water storage.

Tenders are out on another major project, the expansion of the sewage lagoon to cover the needs of an increasing population, Tung says.

Six duplexes are currently under construction and an eight-unit townhouse complex will be coming on stream as well, to cope with a growing need for rental accommodation, he adds.

One long-standing town project was slow to get off the ground, but has since blossomed. "We bought the land for the new industrial park almost six years ago, but it took three years to start development," Tung notes. "We developed five lots, and the demand doubled. We have sold all nine highway lots, and we're in the process of developing more. The response surprised us, we didn't think the lots would be in such demand."

One street in the original industrial park has been improved and paved this year, he adds. "Within the next four years, we can address the rest of that area's roads."

Planning is a high priority, Tung says. "I hope the new council will have the opportunity to learn from the past, to look further ahead and anticipate future growth of the community."

Bantams on opposing teams at provincials

By GLENDA BRISTOW
Review Contributor

Two local bantam girls played at the U16 D provincial tournament this past weekend in Sundre, Alberta.

Alexis Bristow and Tiana Kowalchuk, classmates and old teammates both made it to the final game but on opposite teams. Alexis Bristow played for Vermilion Shadows this year and was asked to play with Czar MCHA heat for the tournament and Tiana Kowalchuk played with the St. Paul Storm. 11 teams were in the tournament and their teams ended up being second in their pools. Each of their teams played the first place team of the opposite pools defeating them and came to face one another for the final game. It was an up and down game but at the end, Czar heat won by one at the top of the 7th inning giving Alexis Bristow and Czar heat the gold and Tiana Kowalchuk, St. Paul Storm the Silver. It was a nail biter of a game to watch. Way to go girls.

Capsule Comments

by Your Natural Choice Apple Drugs pharmacist, Chris Letawsky

- Steroids often get bad press but there is a good side to them. Our bodies normally make steroids to build cholesterol which produce hormones like cortisol, made by our adrenal glands and is important in energy and immune functions. Other steroids regulate our fluid and electrolytes. Our sex hormones, like testosterone and estrogen are also steroids.

Steroids are also used legitimately to treat diseases like asthma, inflammatory bowel disease, rheumatoid arthritis and gout. Short courses of steroids are used to treat allergic reactions that might cause obstruction of the airways and they can bring a quick and dramatic relief of symptoms.

It's the negative sides of steroids that we hear about in the media. Some body builders and athletes use them as performance enhancers and they can cause serious side effects like cataracts, osteoporosis, immune system suppression, confusion and mood changes perhaps with hallucinations. Kidney failure, blood clots, stroke and shrinking of the male testes also can occur.

For standard medical problems, doctor oversight of the use and dosage of steroids is very important. However, using them for body enhancement is not a good idea and should definitely be avoided.

- It takes five years to become a pharmacist. In that time, we learn much about drugs and their uses. We'd be happy to share that knowledge with you.

Our heritage

This coming Monday is Heritage Day, a perfect time to reflect on our backgrounds, both personally and as a community.

While each family's personal heritage is unique, that of the community is the result of blended cultures, shared goals and working together to build a friendly, progressive and thriving town that is the envy of many other communities.

Our earliest residents built a firm foundation, and it is up to us to build upon and preserve it for the future.

GUEST COLUMN

Tetanus can be prevented by vaccine

CAROLYN HAYES
Alberta Health Services

Tetanus is a disease caused by a toxin (or poison) that blocks normal control of nerve reflexes in the spinal column.

The disease travels up nerves from the muscles, which can be extremely painful. The first symptom is usually spasm of the jaw muscles ("lockjaw") followed by painful spasms of muscles in the face, neck, chest, abdomen, arms and legs. It may take weeks or months for the toxins to break down and the muscles to release, 10 per cent of tetanus patients die.

Many of us may picture a cut from a rusty piece of metal as the cause of tetanus, but the real culprit lies in the ground itself. Manure and dirt are the major cause of tetanus. Tetanus is a bacteria found in the soil, animal feces and dust. A person can become infected with tetanus while gardening, farming, playing outdoors or an animal bite when the bacteria enter the body through a dirty cut, scrape or puncture to the skin.

Occurrence of tetanus disease is rare in Canada, as our childhood immunization includes vaccine to prevent tetanus. People who have never been immunized or haven't had a booster in the last 10 years are more likely to get tetanus.

Tetanus infection can happen. It is important to take the necessary precautions before going outside, in order to protect you and your children from tetanus, AHS recommends these simple precautions:

- Ensure that your tetanus immunization is up-to-date.
- Wear gloves, protective clothing and footwear while enjoying outdoor activities.
- Cleanse cuts or scratches with soap and water.

If your immunization is outdated, or the cut is deep or severe, visit your nearest emergency department for medical treatment and for additional information call Health Link Alberta at 1-866-408-5465

Know the signs of tetanus, which can appear three days to three weeks after infection. If you start feeling unwell, experience muscle stiffness or difficulty swallowing, let your health-care professional know.

After you've had tetanus, you are not immune to the disease. You could get infected again, so keep getting routine tetanus vaccinations after you get better. Since tetanus bacteria occur everywhere in our environment, vaccination is the only effective means of protection. Following the vaccine series in infancy and early childhood, booster doses every 10 years are recommended to ensure long-term protection against tetanus.

More information about preventing tetanus it can be found online at www.myhealth.alberta.ca.

POSSIBLE ROYAL BABY FALLOUT

WAY BACK WHEN...

Big birdie, rodeo under two flags, first pitch for Timmy

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JULY 30 IN...

1988

Beautiful weekend weather brought good crowds to Whitney Lake Rodeo, a big change from the previous year when Sunday's show was rained out, the sun shining on Canadian novice bareback champion Wade Graves of Williams Lake, BC as he marked a winning 74 on Les Trach's Hot Chocolate, and on Derek Hehr of St. Paul who tied with two Saturday riders in the bull riding with a 71. Bill Milholland's 75-foot birdie shot on the ninth hole was a fitting climax to a day that won him the Senior Men's golf championship while Pearl Bepalko won the Ladies' championship and Christ Cameron the Junior title.

1993

There was good news and bad news for County of St. Paul residents as tax notices were sent out, owners of single quarters of land hardest hit because rural residences were no longer completely tax exempt. Evelyn Babcock won the Ladies' Golf Championship, Homer Poitras the Senior Men's trophy and Mark Woytkiw the Junior championship when they finally finished their tournament after a two-hour rain delay.

Twenty artists and members of the Society of Western Canadian Artists converged on Fort George and Buckingham House for a weekend paint-off that was so successful that participants and organizers thought it might become an annual event. The Town of Elk Point and Town of St. Paul were taking a wait-and-see approach to the formation of a regional land-fill commission while they waited to see what Alberta Environment decided, although the County of St. Paul had already decided to go ahead with the commission.

2003

While Alberta's beef supporters were heading to Coutts to lobby for the reopening of the US border, senior cowboys and cowgirls from many of the 50 states were headed to Elk Point to compete with their Canadian counterparts in the area's first-ever rodeo exclusively for competitors aged 40-plus, with the Stars and Stripes flying proudly beside the maple leaf, and both the Star Spangled Banner and O Canada sung at the opening of each performance. A theatre performance of "Louis Riel - the Musical" highlighted the second annual Potta Trail Days at Frog Lake's beautiful Riel Beach, with an uncanny Riel look-alike of the portrayals in history books as one of the actors from a St. Albert theatre group.

2008

Former Sox player Myles Quinney fired the ceremonial first pitch to his brother Devin as the two participated in the opening ceremonies for the Tier II Midget Baseball Provincials, the Sox dedicating the tournament to their brother Timmy, who died in a highway crash the previous October, and winning provincial silver. Children's entertainer Daryl Robb and his sidekick, Leroy the Lobster, visited the library's summer reading program with a show called "Down by the Docks."

Elk Point 4-H at Provincial Sheep Show

WOLKE CUEVA
Club Reporter

Five of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club Sheep project members had an opportunity to go to the Olds Provincial Sheep Show from July 9th -12th.

This was a great opportunity for our club members to get some hands on experience working with our Market Lambs.

We spend four days handling our lambs, competing in different classes, learning new skills, meeting new people and of course having lots of fun.

Below is a list of our achievements:

Wolke Cueva 1st in Junior Marketing

Carson Vogel 2nd in Junior Marketing

Lyon Cueva 3rd in Intermediate Marketing

Morgan 6th in Intermediate Marketing

Morgan Evens 6th in her weight class for Market Lamb

Nolan Vogel - 1st in King of the Grill Competition

Wolke Cueva 1st place in the Costume Class.

Tuesday late afternoon we arrived and immediately had our lambs sheered, after that we settled our lambs into their stalls. The evening was spent competing in the King of the Grill competition and a Magician show followed. Wednesday was filled with activities to compete in and we finished the evening with some group games. Thursday we spent preparing our lambs for Friday's Market Lamb Class and we also got to watch and help the other clubs show their sheep. Thursday evening we attend the Award of Excellence Banquet at the Olds College. Friday was our Market Lamb Classes and we spent the day showing our lambs. We even had a Costume Class. You and your sheep had to dress up. This was a lot of fun. I left our stall gate open (by accident of course) and Lyon's sheep went running off with a swimsuit on, needles to say by the time we caught him he was pantsless. We finished the day by attending the Parade of Champions with Premier Alison Redford in attendance. After this we loaded up our lambs and started our journey back home.

Dwayne Vogel organized this trip to Olds for our project members and of course to his right hand man during the trip was Eros Cueva.

Eros was always on hand during the four days to give us advice (sometimes unwanted advice.)

Our next event will be our Elk Point 4-H Multi Club Achievement Day and Market Lamb Sale on Sunday, August 11th at the A.G. Ross Arena. The show starts at 1 p.m. with our Market Lamb sale to follow at 3 p.m.

Everyone is welcome.

4-H members raise organic chickens

This year the Elk Point 4-H Poultry Project has worked hard to raise the eggs that they hatched into full-grown chickens. They were raised totally organically for about three months. The chickens have now been butchered and are being enjoyed by the buyers, Rocky and Desiree Maas, Chris and Rod Risilins, Pat and Cecile Demers, Heather and Travis Harms and Johnathan Randal. Poultry Project members, left to right, are Leanna Gibson, Morgan Baker, Abby Baker, Dana Gibson and Sadie Baker.

Elk Point 4-H Beef Club members enjoy summer

By ROY AND HEATHER TYMKO
Elk Point 4-H Beef Club.

On July 1, our club participated in the Elk Point Canada Day Parade. The club received a second place ribbon for our float! The Bristows were kind enough to let us use their truck and trailer. The members did a fantastic job decorating that morning.

On July 5, 2013 Tim Boychuk from Boychuk Venture invited the 4-H Club to Castrol Raceways in Nisku. The 4-H members got free tickets to the Rocky Mountain Nationals in Edmonton. They all got a tour of the race car and pit area. Tim also let them sit in the car!!

It was a full evening of watching all kinds of cars race. Our club lead the cheers for Tim Boychuk's car, also co-owned by Ron Hodgson. At the end of the evening we watched the fire trucks do their fire show. You could feel the heat in the stands.

All the members thanked Tim and his pit crew for the grand tour!! We had a memorable evening.

Watch in upcoming issues for our coverage of the Provincial 4-H Heifer Show.

Former team wins Midget Provincials

DOUG BASSETT
Review Sports

Congratulations to my buddies, Bonnyville coaches Jim Church and Garth Campbell. The Bonnyville Braves midget team won the Tier One provincials last weekend in Lacombe and will now be making a trip to the Westerns in Swift Current, Sask. on the weekend of Aug 17th. This was a team that I was manager for last year.

Some local girls also competed a few weeks ago in the bantam girls softball provincials, winning gold and silver on opposing teams. See their story on Page 3.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "Kids are always chasing rainbow, but baseball is a world where you can catch them." Last week's answer to: "If you're not having fun in baseball, you miss the point of everything." - Chris Chambliss. Have a sports scoop? Now you can email them to sportshound007@

Operation Dry Water

By CANADIAN SAFE
BOATING COUNCIL

Drinking and boating accounts for approximately 40 per cent of boating-related fatalities on Canadian waterways. To raise awareness and reduce alcohol related deaths, the Canadian Safe Boating Council is launching Operation Dry Water, an initiative to discourage this dangerous practice.

With the summer boating season in high gear, the August long weekend is the perfect time to remind Canadian boaters about the risks of drinking and boating. Combined with sun, wind, waves and the rocking motion of the boat, the effects of alcohol on the water can be greatly increased.

Operation Dry Water will focus on the potential risks of drinking and boating, and remedies that are currently in place to discourage it.

Federal statutes dictate that, whether or not your craft is motorized, you can be charged with Impaired Operation of a vessel under the Criminal Code of Canada if your blood alcohol level exceeds the .08 threshold. This means you can be charged even if you are impaired while operating a canoe and a judge is able to, upon conviction, suspend your boating privileges.

Operation Dry Water is aimed at reducing alcohol-related accidents and fatalities on the water while fostering a stronger, more visible deterrent to alcohol use while boating, to achieve safer and more enjoyable recreational boating.
